Who want glossy, luxuriant and wavy tresses of abundant, beautiful hair must use LYON'S KATHAIRON. This elegant, cheap article always makes the hair grow freely and fast, keeps it from falling out, arrests and cures grayness, removes dandruff and itching, makes the hair strong, giving it a curling tendency and keeping it in any desired position. Beautiful, healthy hair is the sure result of using Kathairon.

Post-Office--Summer Time Table.
The mails arrive and depart at the Janesville Post-Office as follows:
Daily from 8:00 A. M. to 8:00 P. M. On Sundays from 12:00 to 1:00 P. M. Money order and Registered Letter Department open from 8:00 A. M. to 12:00 M., and from 1:00 to 5:00 P. M., except during the distribution of the mails. Stamps, stamped envelopes, postal cards, and weights for sale at East front window from 8 A. M. to 5 P. M. Orders for stamped envelopes with return card printed thereon, should be left at the Money order Department.
On Saturday night only, a through pouch from Chicago is received on the Fond du Lac train; and on Monday morning only, a through pouch is made up and forwarded to Chicago on the 7 o'clock train.
By reading this table carefully, the public can post themselves thoroughly upon the arrival and departure of all the mails, and thus avoid much inconvenience to themselves.
H. A. PATTERSON, P. M.
A Brave Young Girl Artist.
The home of Miss Marion Foster is in Minerva, Ohio, a little town in the northern part of the State. Her aged parents live there still. From early childhood Miss Marion has been an invalid, and when she was eleven, by an accidental fall her spine was injured and her limbs became paralyzed. She has not since been able to walk. She was found in her little parlor at 51 East Twenty-ninth Street, last evening, seated in a roller chair, upon which she journeys round her room, looking not unlike a modern fairy queen in her dress. She is a picture of little being. Her hair is dark and long, lies in waves low down on her forehead, and falls unconfined upon her shoulders. From under the dark thatch-like tresses her large eyes look out.
All about the room were pictures, Miss Marion's handiwork. She is an artist. As a little child she delighted with brush and colors to daub on bits of tin or cardboard her earliest "impressions." Her father, who was a man of means, gratified her taste, and under the guidance of a governess and teacher the young girl made progress. A few years later Mr. Foster failed in business, and then the elder brother, who had undertaken to care for his father and his sisters, died, and left them all quite without means. Miss Marion sought work at a milliner's and with the little fortune thus saved, a matter of $50 or $60, she went to Cincinnati to put to practical use those gifts as an artist which she had cultivated purely for pleasure.
To gain a livelihood in a large city was a hard task for the unknown young girl, but, seated in her little carriage, she painted well and bravely, and soon found friends. She painted many portraits in oil, and did much decorative work in oil and water colors, according as there was demand.
Miss Foster remained thus seven years in Cincinnati working with her brush. Among other friends whom she won while there were Emma Abbott, the singer (who was attracted to Miss Marion by her musical voice and taste for music) and Fanny Davenport, the actress. For these she painted flowers upon their silk and satin stage dresses. Last April she came to New York, at the solicitation of Fanny Davenport, to consult Dr. Sayre. He has since been treating her for her spinal trouble and has given her some hope that perhaps she may yet be well and strong. Indeed, she was able at one time last summer to stand upon her feet and take a step forward. But a most unfortunate accident in moving her in bed undid all that the doctor had done, and left her paralyzed.
Miss Foster hopes now to remain in New York, to establish herself here, where a larger field is offered for her work. The walls of her little parlor are hung with pictures and satinpainted screens and banners, all of them pretty and tasteful, and showing abundant evidence of skill. Across a chair last night lay a cream colored silk dress. It was made by Worth for Miss Fanny Davenport in "Camille," and across the front and sides of the skirt Miss Foster has painted red camellias. A large fan has been decorated to match. Miss Foster has painted several other dresses and fans for Miss Davenport, which will be worn for the first time during Miss Davenport's New York engagement this season.
Miss Foster is alone in New York but for the friends whom she has already made through Dr. Sayre and others who have called upon her. She desires to be better known, to the end that in making a name for herself she may also make means of support. -- N. Y. Sun.
A Poetical Proclamation.
Governor Long, of Massachusetts, issued the following somewhat unique Thanksgiving proclamation:
WHEREAS, it is a time of season and ancient custom to apart after the harvest a day of public thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God, now, therefore, I, John D. Long, Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Council, appoint therefore Thursday, the twenty-fourth day of November next.
"Unto Thee, O God, do we give thanks! Thou visitest the earth and waterst it. Thou blestest the springing thereof. Thou crownest the year with Thy goodness. The pastures are clothed with flocks; the valleys also are covered over with corn; they shout for joy, they sing and say:
"Blessed is he that considereth the poor."
"Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."
"O painter of the fruits and flowers, We own thy wise design. Whereby these humble hands of ours May share the work of Thine!
"A part from Thee we labor in vain! The root and seed are Thine! Thy early and Thy later rain, Thy sun and dew we need."
"Our toil is sweet with thankfulness, Our burden is our love! The curse of Earth's gray morning Is the blessing of its noon.
"And still with reverent heart we call The gifts each year renewed! The good is always beautiful! The beautiful is good!"
Disclaimed the Relationship.
The man who travels on the railroad and sits down by the side of lone females while laboring under the impression that he recognizes a likeness in their faces to his wife's aunt's cousin, met his match on one of the roads in this vicinity lately. He sat down in the half of a seat the other half of which was occupied by a pleasant-faced young lady. His first question was:
"Pardon me, Miss, but is your name James? I have a cousin of that name, whom you greatly resemble."

"No, sir," was the reply, "my name is not James. But, pardon me, is your name Zinc or Copper?"
"Zinc or Copper? No, ma'am," said the astonished man. "What lead you to suppose I had such names?"
"Excuse me," was the quiet reply, "but I thought certain you must be first cousin to a brass foundry."
The man fell over two seats and kicked a bird-cage half way down the car in his haste to get into the smoker, while the young lady smiled a gentle smile behind her handkerchief. It was a proof of the old adage that a witty answer turneth away bores. -- Oil City Derrick.

A Lucky Escape.
During a storm given at the Winter Palace in St. Petersburg in the reign of the Czar Nicholas, some forty years ago, the conversation happened to turn upon luxuriant growths of hair, and a Governor of a distant province remarked that he had frequently noticed in the chief town of his government a venerable Jew, whose countenance was adorned by a beard of extraordinary length and beauty. "How I should like to see him!" ejaculated a lady, smiling wistfully at the narrator. "Your Highness's least wishes are commands," replied the Governor, and that very night he dispatched a courier to the provincial capital with a peremptory order that the Hebrew should be forwarded to him without delay. On receipt of this command, the local authorities at once caused the Jew to be conveyed post-haste to St. Petersburg. His protestations of innocence were ignored. When, after traveling for more than a fortnight, he reached his destination, the police officials, learning that he had been sent thither at the express order of the Governor, assumed that he must be a criminal of the deepest dye. Accordingly they thrust him into a dungeon, having first caused his hair to be clipped close and his beard shaved off, in conformity with prison regulations. By this time several weeks had elapsed since the conversation above alluded to had taken place, and the lady's whim had been forgotten alike by herself and the Governor. As, therefore, no questions were asked about the luckless Hebrew, he remained immured in his cell, and might have spent the remainder of his days there had not his relatives, wealthy traders, bestirred themselves to obtain his release. When they succeeded in directing official attention to his case, it came out, to the infinite amusement of the Russian Court, that his beautiful beard, the motive of his martyrdom, had long since ceased to exist, and with it the necessity for his further sojourn in St. Petersburg. He was therefore, set at liberty, grimly congratulated upon his "lucky escape," and solemnly warned "never to do it again."
The Wedding Ring.
In our day, and in our country, the wedding ring has become a thing of many things, and many of our people, married and intelligent, who cannot tell of the significance of the wedding ring, nor where it should be worn. From time immemorial the finger ring has been held as a symbol. In ancient times the seal was always upon a finger ring; and the husband, when he placed his ring upon the hand of his wife, signified thereby that he had given to her his seal, and that thenceforth she should be his representative. In old times it was the custom of the Days of Venice annually, on Ascension Day, to go out upon the water, and from the deck of the ship Decatur to throw a ring into the sea, thereby signifying that he had "married the Adriatic," and that the beautiful sea was united with and tributary to Venice. In the days of the commonwealth of England, Cromwell sought to put a stop to the custom of giving and wearing the wedding ring--and many of the Puritans did cast it aside--because of its heathen origin. In old times, among the nobility, the wedding ring was the husband's seal; but later a simple hoop of gold is sufficient. And now: Where shall the wedding ring be worn? Always--from the first times to the present--on the fourth finger of the left hand, counting the thumb as number one. If you ask why this finger is selected, I answer, there are several explanations; but the oldest, and therefore the most rational, is this: The ancients believed that a wonderful artery led from the fourth finger of the left hand directly to the heart, and hence this was the point whence love might send its mystic message most readily to the seat of the affections--to the throbbing center of the soul. Really, I like the idea of the wedding ring. It helps to make more strong and more binding the marriage tie; it helps to sanctify it. May we not attribute, very--very much, of the present-day disposition to divorce to the throwing away of so many of the forms and symbols held sacred by our ancestors?
A Yankee Novelty in London.
A startling Yankee novelty just introduced in London is the one-shilling American rubber baby. It is washable, durable, and unbreakable; it resembles life; it coos at pleasure, yet screams awfully when spanked. "Given experienced fathers," says the advertisement, "are deceived by these laughter-producing infants, and no home can be a happy one without their cheering presence." "In long white dress complete, fourteen stamps; twice, postage free, two shillings." -- Buffalo Express.
Premature Loss of the Hair
May be entirely prevented by the use of BARNETT'S COCAINE. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. It softens the hair when harsh and dry. It soothes the irritated scalp. It affords the richest nutriment. It prevents the hair from falling off. It promotes its healthy, vigorous growth. It is not greasy nor sticky. It leaves no disagreeable odor. It kills dandruff. Barnett's Coloring Extracts are known as the best.
Nearly a Miracle.
E. Asenhalt, Mail, Birmingham, N. Y., writes: "I have suffered for several months with a dull pain through the left lung and shoulders. I lost my spirits, appetite and color, and could with difficulty keep up all day. My mother procured some BARNETT'S COCAINE BLENDED, I took them as directed, and have felt a pain since first week after using them, and am now quite well." Price $1.00, trial size 10 cents.

A POPULAR TONIC.

For Weak Lungs and Consumption. No preparation ever introduced to the American public for the relief and cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Debilitated Constitutions, Weakness of the Lungs, or Consumption in the incipient or advanced stages of the disease, has ever met with the indorsements of physicians or patients as the celebrated "Tolu, Kock and Rye." The repeated and continued sales of this article everywhere are the best evidence of its real merits. Letters and testimonials from every part of the country, attesting the stimulating, tonic and healing effects, are in possession of the proprietors, and can be added to convince the most skeptical reader of its intrinsic virtues. Further commendation is unnecessary and superfluous, as a trial of this article, having a pleasant taste and agreeable odor, will satisfy all those who are afflicted or pining away with pulmonary weakness of the relief to be secured by the use of Tolu, Kock and Rye. Chicago Times.

A Cough, Cold, or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balams, but are directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh and the Throat troubles which Sufferers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire century, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

BRIEFLETS.

—The Orpheus Club had a rehearsal last night.

—Hon. E. Bowen, of Brodhead, was in the city to-day.

—One year ago to-day the thermometer stood 22 degrees below zero.

—Mayor J. H. Reigart, of Beloit, was among the visitors to this city to-day.

—There was a tumble among the stores in the Myers house last evening, but no damage resulted.

—The days are growing longer at the rate of a minute and a half a day.

—The Doty works have put in a pair of platform scales in front of their shops on Main street.

—Ada Gray will be the next attraction at Myers Opera house, and the date named is January 21.

—Miss Lizzie Koebelin left for Milwaukee yesterday, where she will spend a week or two visiting relatives and friends.

—The committee of the county board of supervisors to settle with the county officers met to-day. The board will meet next Tuesday, the 17th.

—Miss Mary Hutton, who has been ill for so long, is now able to walk out for a short distance. Her many friends will be pleased to learn of her recovery.

—Mrs. J. F. Morse who has been spending the summer in Boston, with her niece, is in the city, on her way home to Baraboo, where Mr. Morse is engaged in the furniture business.

—In the First Methodist church, preaching and revival services every evening this week. All are cordially invited. The meetings have been well attended so far, and considerable interest manifested.

—John O'Brien, of this city, has charge of the construction and repair department of the new telegraph line between Galena and Milwaukee, which position he knows well how to fill.

—The funeral of the late Joseph F. Biggs was held this afternoon at the Baptist church. Rev. Dr. Hodge officiating, and the Odd Fellows attending in a body under whose auspices the funeral rites were conducted at the grave, in Oak Hill cemetery.

—An effort will be made to secure the return of Haverly's Widow Bedott at an early day. Should this fail, Mr. Mosely will endeavor to engage Neil Burgess who ranks with Bishop in his skill in portraying the famous old widow.

—The French plate glass, of enormous size, are being put in the front windows of R. M. Bostwick's store building on Main street. The delicate and responsible task of doing this work is assumed by Rogers & Hutchinson, who never fail to do good work.

—There was an ugly and dangerous runaway on West Milwaukee street yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. A team hitched to the ring of the sentle in front of Hollister's saloon backed off, taking the cover with them, which frightened the horses into a lively run, the cover whipping around, cut the horses about the legs in a very serious manner.

—John Smith, employed in the livery stable of H. S. Ames, on Bluff street, missed his foothold while climbing in the barn one day last week, and sustained slight injuries, but, while under treatment, he took a severe cold, and is now at his home in Brodhead, in a fair way of a speedy recovery.

—On the 24th and 25th of January, the Hazel Winkle Ider's will appear at Myers Opera house. One of their performances will be the "Celebrated Cese," a play that has won remarkable popularity in all parts of the country. The other play will be "Hunchback." The "Celebrated Cese" has never been given in Janesville, and "Hunchback" has been rendered only in an indifferent manner.

—It is currently reported that Vennor, the weather prophet, has been falsifying right along in prognosticating the weather. If this be true what are we going to do when we have a six weeks' washing on hand and can't depend on what the weather is going to be to-morrow or next day? If it has got to be that our most valuable weather prophet would sooner lie than tell the truth, why let him get a situation on some Democratic paper where he will be appreciated thoroughly.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock a. m. stood 31 degrees above zero, and at 1 o'clock p. m. 42 degrees above. Snowing lightly in the afternoon. For the corresponding time last year, the thermometer stood 22 degrees below zero, and was clear.

The indications for this region are fair weather, south to west winds, falling barometer, stationary or light rise in temperature.

THE MUNICIPAL COURT.

The Municipal court was engaged to-day in the trial of the case of the State against Jacob Reitzel, the defendant a resident of Beloit.

The jury is composed of James Bear, William Hatch, Charles Harris, William Farquharson, A. O. Wilson, P. B. Lehigh, George Skelly, J. C. Fredendall, A. P. Bennett, J. H. Hunkins, Charles Bowman, and O. K. Chapman.

The defendant is charged with stealing a brass wheel from the Houston Iron works, and breaking it in pieces. The wheel was in court, and so were a large number of spectators both from Beloit and of this city.

The sentence of Chastfield, found guilty of burglary, has not been pronounced yet.

HIS FORTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY.

Last evening the Bower City Band, under the leadership (for this occasion) of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Buchholz, planned and carried out to the end, one of the happiest and most enjoyable surprise parties of the season. It being the forty-fifth birthday of Mr. John M. Kneff, the artistic cutter at the head of the merchant tailoring establishment of Fred Sonneborn, who is also a leading member of the band. The suggestion of Mr. and Mrs. Buchholz, was no sooner conveyed to the members of the band than it was heartily agreed to, and the band repaired at once to the residence of Mr. Kneff, in the Second ward, and then there was music, indeed, by the entire band, which was kept up for several hours. During the time refreshments were served, hearty congratulations exchanged, and all dispersed, happy in the thought that all had participated in the evening's enjoyment and surprise.

JUDGE CONGER DECLINES.

To the Electors of the 12th Judicial Circuit of the State of Wisconsin:

My term of office, as judge of this circuit, will expire on the last day of December of the present year, after two elections without opposition, and twelve years of continuous service. For the term commencing January 1st, 1883, an election is to be held in the coming month of April; and in view of the fact that friends in different parts of the circuit have proffered aid to present me as a candidate for the suffrages of the electors for re-election, and have requested that I become such candidate, I have thought it due to them and all others who might regard me as a possible candidate, that I relieve them from all embarrassment as respects their action in the premises, by publicly, at this early day, announcing that I am not and shall not be a candidate for re-election.

I beg leave to add that, at no time during my past eleven years of service on the bench, have I thought that a third election would be desirable, under any circumstances; and never, more than at the present time, have I looked forward to emancipation from official duty and responsibility with greater pleasure.

Janesville, Wis., Jan. 9, 1882.

The Farmer's Hired Man.

I'm kinder lookin' around the market for a hired man," he exclaimed, as he stood at one of the stands and nibbled at an onion. "I kinder need one, but yet I kinder hope I shan't be able to find him."

"How's that?"

"Wall, there ain't no profit in a hired man no more. No, sir, he's no good any longer."

"What's the reason?"

"Oh, a dozen reasons. First and foremost, times have changed, and the hired man has changed with 'em. Ah! sir, it makes me sad when I think of the hired men we had before the war—great big fellows with the strength of an ox and the vim of a locomotive. I didn't have to bother my lungs out to get one of 'em out of bed at 3 o'clock in the morning, and it was all I could do to coax 'em to go to bed at 10 o'clock at night. I'm afraid that we shan't never see no more hired men with keepin' around for their board."

"That's sad."

"I's sad, and more, too. Now, as I said, I want a hired man. I'm willing to pay $1.00 or $1.25 a month for a smart one. Some farmers want a man to work all day and all night, but that ain't me. I have never asked one to get out of bed before 3 o'clock—never. I tells 'em to get up at three-quarters of an hour at noon, unless the hogs get out or cattle break
